

IT IS NOT ABOUT WRITING A CHECK — IT IS ABOUT...

Making a Difference in Someone's Life.

The generous contributions of donors made a difference in the lives of over 13,000 neighbors this past year. In our community, people helped by the United Way aren't as obvious as a homeless man crouched on the corner of a city street. Here, the woman in front of you in the grocery store, the man doing yard work next door, or the child sitting next to yours on the school bus may need help.

United Way funded programs make a difference here in southern Chester County — one person at a time.

HELPING TO CREATE AN INDEPENDENT FUTURE...

A grandmother called Tick Tock, a non-profit daycare center, towards the end of summer. Her teenage daughter had dropped out of high school to give birth a year and a half ago and now wanted to return to finish high school. Because the grandmother was the sole supporting worker in the family, there was no one to provide child care. Tick Tock, using United Way funds, was able to offer the family a scholarship. The young child is enrolled and learning new things every day while his mother is back in high school, working to graduate.

HELPING TO OVERCOME A PAST MISTAKE...

Joe can't remember whether he gave up on school first or his teachers gave up on him, but this struggling reader left without his degree. As an adult enrolled in a United Way-sponsored adult literacy program, he meets with his mentor weekly to improve his reading and writing skills while working fulltime. Before entering the program, Joe had repeatedly requested his landlord fix the leaky faucet and broken stove burners and too-warm refrigerator. With his mentor's help, he wrote an official letter demanding his landlord fix these problems. After Joe delivered the letter to the landlord, his apartment problems were repaired in short order. Joe continues to work weekly on improving his communication skills.

HELPING A YOUNG MIND REACH HER POTENTIAL...

Maria arrived in Kennett Square as a young teen a few years ago. Since her arrival, Maria and her brothers spend their after school hours at The Garage, a United Way-funded program serving high school students. All three have been matched with mentors and received intense academic assistance through the tutoring program. Maria, a junior, is at The Garage almost every day. Though very bright, she must look up most of the words in her textbooks. Undeterred by the extra workload, she plans to major in biochemistry in college. Maria wants a better job than the one both parents hold — the hard daily labor as a mushroom picker. At fifteen, Maria is aware that her parents' options are extremely limited. Normally bubbly and cheerful, she is uncharacteristically bleak when talking about finding different jobs for them. Her desire to go to college is fueled by a yearning to provide a better life for her parents.

HELPING A FAMILY FIND SAFETY...

Jane thought her secret was well hidden. Despite being subjected to both physical and verbal abuse from her husband, she kept her job. But her co-workers noticed her weight loss and exhaustion as Jane diminished into a frightened, skittish, very thin version of the woman they'd met years ago. After finding Jane sleeping in her car in the parking lot at work, a co-worker gave her the Domestic Violence Center of Chester County's (DVCCC) hotline number. United Way donations support two DVCCC sites in southern Chester County and Jane finally worked up the courage to go to the one nearest her.

Jane kept her counseling sessions a secret from her abuser by making her appointments over her lunch break. The abuse continued until one night the physical abuse and verbal threats were too much to bear. Fearing the worst, Jane waited until the children went to school and she to work, then made what she calls today, "The best decision I ever made." Jane went home at lunch time and packed just a few of the children's clothes and never went back.

She went to the DVCCC shelter. In time, Jane finally exposed her nightmare to her boss. Jane was overwhelmed at her company's support of her and her children. Jane has since filed for divorce and was awarded primary custody of her children. The children are receiving individual counseling. Jane is in the process of getting settled with her children in her new home. With help, Jane has empowered herself with new-found confidence and the tools she needs to provide a safe and peaceful environment for herself and her children. Today, Jane continues with individual counseling and is very optimistic about her and her children's future. She has learned that the crime of domestic violence will end when it is no longer acceptable. Jane can proudly say, "I stopped accepting."

BE A PART OF THE SOLUTION — THE ONE THAT LENDS A HAND IN TIMES OF NEED...

These are just a few examples of the individuals served by the 35 local non-profit programs your local United Way funds. Chester County is home to almost 29,000 living below poverty level and the number of people served at homeless shelters is rising at a staggering rate — over half of them are children. Last year, 635 clients visited our two domestic violence centers for help and 352 families living on the edge financially received one-time United Way emergency funds to pay for rent, electric, water, fuel and prescription bills. Together, we can work to make a difference in the lives of our neighbors and create a better community for all of us.

THANKS FOR ALL YOU DO TO SUPPORT YOUR COMMUNITY.
